University of Oregon Scholarships, Fellowships, and Awards. Universitywide scholarships are offered centrally through the Office of Student Financial Aid and Scholarships. Many individual UO schools and departments also offer scholarships to students studying a specific major or discipline. Scholarships for Graduate Students. Diversity Excellence Scholarship. The Diversity Excellence Scholarship recognizes the academic achievement and potential of students who, through sharing their varied cultural perspectives, will enhance the education of all UO students and the excellence of the University Both "scholarship" and "fellowship" in general assume a "financial aid" for students and researchers, or any individual with an interest to search, find and research something new. "Scholarships" and "fellowships" are instituted by a University, a research center, academic institution, laboratory, government or a foundation. Main difference between scholarship and fellowship. The most important difference between "scholarship" and "fellowship" is that the term "scholarship" always means that there is a "financial aid" available. So there is no "scholarship" without "financial aid". If there is A Guide to Scholarship and Fellowship Awards. In general, scholarships are awards to help the winner attend an annual meeting (IMAST or Annual Meeting - see each award for details). Traveling fellowships award funds to practicing surgeons to visit spinal deformity centers. Criteria for qualification are listed below each award description. Traveling Scholarships and Awards. For SRS Candidate and Active Members 45 years old or younger. 2021 SRS Traveling Fellowship. For SRS candidate members 45 years old or younger. Edgar Dawson Traveling Fellowship. Eduardo R. Luque Memorial Scholarship. For I Scholarships and fellowships are forms of financial aid, but they aren't exactly the same thing. In this article, we'll explore the difference between fellowships and scholarships so that you can learn what each type of aid means for you. Scholarships Defined. A scholarship is a type of funding that can be applied to educational costs, such as tuition, books, fees, etc. Scholarships are also known as grants or financial aid. Some are awarded based on financial need, while others are awarded based on merit. You can also receive scholarships from random drawings, membership in a particular organization, or through a contest (such as an essay competition). A scholarship is a desirable form of financial aid because it does not have to be paid back like a student loan.
