Gerald and Piggie are best friends. In We Are in a Book! Gerald and Piggie. Gerald and Piggie discover the joy of being read. But what will happen when the book ends? Using vocabulary perfect for beginning readers (and vetted by an early-learning specialist), Mo Willems has crafted a mind-bending story that is even more interactive than previous Elephant & Piggie adventures. Fans of the Geisel Award-winning duo won't be able to put this book down—literally! Released. September 14th, 2010. In their latest pairing, Elephant and Piggie are finally ready to get meta. Realizing that their trademark blank background is, in fact, a page, the duo has a blast convincing the reader to say funny things out loud—until Piggie mentions that the book will soon end. Cue Elephant's existential crisis: "WHEN WILL THE BOOK END!?!!" From there on, it's a cute-but never too heady-play on the physical object that the reader is holding, including a bit where Piggie appears to flip the pages forward to get a sense of how much time they have left. Piggie drapes herself on a word bubble to demonstrate: "We are in a book!" "That is so cool!" We made Piggies and Gerald's, spread out, and DANCED. The original thought had been to get everyone in within a couple days of each other and get helium balloons but that didn't happen. Oh well. These pictures are rubbish but hello. This is a perfect week to do a Elephant and Piggie Unit. This book series is by Mo Willems. His books are great to show voice, feelings and good character. I found a great resource at Mo Willems' website Elephant and Piggie Party Kit. I used the feelings page for several activities in the classroom. We kicked off the unit with Should I Share My
