

Human Rights Annual Report 2007 | The Stationery Office, 2008 | 2008 | 9780101734028 | Great Britain. Foreign and Commonwealth Office

[Extract - Annual Report 2007 of the European Court of Human Rights]. S.Â In the judgment *Nikolova and Velichkova v. Bulgaria*³, and in the context of respect for the right to life, the Court applied the principles concerning "œvictim" status that it had developed with regard to excessive length of proceedings in the Scordino v. Italy (no. 1)⁴ judgment. Police officers who were responsible when arresting a man for ill-treatment that had resulted in his death had been given only a suspended prison sentence, the lightest penalty available, after seven years of proceedings with delays that were attributable to the State, and had been ordered in civil proceedings to pay t Table of contents. Introduction. ANNUAL REPORT. May 1, 2008 " April 30, 2009. Introduction.Â This report is to provide members of the Ryerson University community with an overview of the activities of the Office of Discrimination and Harassment Prevention Services (DHPS) from May 1, 2008 to April 30, 2009. The primary responsibility of the DHPS is to administer Ryerson's Discrimination and Harassment Prevention Policy and Procedures.Â Across provincial human rights commissions there has been a trend of increased disability complaints as more individuals are seeking to validate their rights with respect to full inclusion in our society. 4. TABLE I. Book Overview. Human Rights Watch is increasingly recognised as the world's leader in building a stronger human rights culture. Their annual World Report is the most probing review of human rights developments available anywhere. Written in straightforward non-technical language, it prioritises events in the most affected countries during the year. The backbone of the report consists of a series of concise overviews of the most pressing human rights issues in countries Read Full Overview. This Annual Report reflects the commitment and dedication of the Commissioners and staff at the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission (HREOC) to the promotion and protection of human rights in Australia. Over the 2006-07 reporting period HREOC has acted on a broad range of challenging and complex human rights issues.Â The Hon. John von Doussa, QC President, Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission. This Annual Report reflects the commitment and dedication of the Commissioners and staff at the Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission (HREOC) to the promotion and protection of human rights in Australia. Over the 2006-07 reporting period HREOC has acted on a broad range of challenging and complex human rights issues. The purpose of this ninth EU Annual Report on Human Rights, covering the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007, is to provide an overview of the human rights-related work of the European Union. The report intends to illustrate how the com-mon values on which the EU is based translate into human rights-related activities with regard to third countries, in mul-tilateral fora and in relation to a number of thematic issues. Although the structure of this report follows to a large extent the same format as last year, this year's edition strives to provide additional focus on analysis in order to