This book contains two stories from the "Anne of Green Gables" series. All stories are holiday stories written by L.M. Montgomery on either Christmas or New Year's Eve or Day. Most are magazine publications, but some are stories released for the first time. This book was first published in 1995, after Rea Wilmshurst, editor, found a cache of stories in scrapbooks found in L.M. Montgomery's birthplace home. This book contains a nice mixture of Christmas stories. Two, starring Anne Shirley, are taken from other Anne books - we have the time Matthew insisted on puffed sleeves for Anne for us to enjoy, as well as Katherine Brooke's visit to Green Gables.
