The Acts of the Apostles - is the second book written by Luke and serves as a sequel to his Gospel. Acts follows the Gospel of John and precedes the Letter of Paul to the Romans in the New Testament of the Bible. St. Luke was the only Gentile writer of the New Testament (Colossians 4:10-14). After an introduction containing an account of the Ascension (1:10-14) and the calling of Matthias to the Quorum of the Twelve (1:15-26), missionary work in Jerusalem goes forth with the outpouring of the Spirit on the day of Pentecost (2:1-13) and with Peter's bold declaration of the divinity of Jesus Christ and His literal.
