Categories: 1850 works. Here are eight poems about the sea from such poets as Samuel Taylor Coleridge, Walt Whitman, Matthew Arnold, and Langston Hughes. Langston Hughes: "Sea Calm". Hulton Archive / Getty Images. Langston Hughes, writing from the 1920s through the 1960s, is known as a poet of the Harlem Renaissance and for telling the stories of his people in down-to-earth ways as opposed to esoteric language. He worked many odd jobs as a young man, one being a seaman, which took him to Africa and Europe. Perhaps that knowledge of the ocean informed this poem from his collection "The Weary Blues,"
